

Free Educational Program Introduced at Jordan Park

The Power Broker
September 9, 2011

The St. Petersburg Housing Authority (SPHA), Landex Management, and Quantum Leap Educational Services, L.L.C. have partnered to provide a free educational program, called the SUCCESS program, for school-aged children living in local public housing developments. Held during after-school hours at the Jordan Park Management office, the SUCCESS program encourages learning through educational activities and personalized tutoring. Students are now being accepted. Read more at stpeteha.org.